

The time has come to produce a new edition of this booklet, which has been very popular with the visitors to our church.

The text, apart from some minor updatings, remains largely unaltered from that originally put together by the Rev. C. Rayner-Smith and subsequently expanded by the Rev. John. M. Sergeant.

The story of Cottisford and its church reflects a number of the events which go to make up the history of this country over more than a thousand years.

I commend it to all who visit here.
